Our company exists since 1966, since then we have established to become the European market leader in the category cable stockings.

Quality, Excellent Customer Service and fast delivery made us successful which we are very proud of today.

Our mother company in the USA is in charge of the north and south American as well as far eastern countries, where the business in Germany is mainly focused on the European market. Therefore we can provide fast but highest quality tools, even large quantities worldwide within just days.

Our newest innovation is the rupi - BLUE, specially manufactured for the wind industry, definitely a tool manufacturers but also service technicians should not be without due to its special and flexible as well as self extinguishing material when fire is released, also protected by law.
